

LHS DECA AND FBLA 1977-78

LYNNWOOD High School's winners at the DECA conference are, left to right, (standing) Eric Shindler, Jodi Noto, Dale Amend and Marc Ferrari. (sitting) Kris Johnson, Jody Moran, Debbie Ross and Cindy McGarten.

LYNNWOOD High School winning contingent at the state FBLA leadership conference included, left to right, Gloria Kollmar, Connie Scott, Vicki Onstad and Rene Mabeus. Gloria took fourth in data processing; Connie, second in advanced shorthand, third in Miss FBLA, and fourth, advanced typing; Vicki, fourth, beginning shorthand, and Rene, fourth, job interview.

(Edmonds Schools photo)

5-17

Senior in top FBLA contest

Brooke Robinson, Meadowdale High School senior, will represent Washington State at the Future Business Leaders of America - FBLA National Leadership Conference in San Francisco July 1-4. Miss Robinson will compete in the clerk typist category. She earned her leadership conference processing, Rene way to the nationals by winning the state contest in Ellensburg April 13-15. Her business teacher at Meadowdale is Ellie Duckworth. Other Edmonds School District students who placed well at the state wood, fourth, data processing; Rene were Donna Robinson, Mabeus, fourth, job interview, and Vicki Onstad, fourth, beginning shorthand. The business teacher at Linnwood is third, Miss FBLA, and Sandy Ottmar.

DECA winners

DISPLAYING the hardware, they won March 6 at the Washington DECA career development conference are, left to right (front) Jody Moran, Lynnwood; Jodi Noto, Lynnwood; Tracy Richards, Edmonds; Terri Lingenbrink, Woodway; Judy Thompson, Woodway; (back) Dave Walker, Lynnwood; Lorraine Kobbs, Meadowdale; Jana Parker, Meadowdale; Rhonda Jacobson, Woodway; and Joanne Orazio, Meadowdale. (Edmonds Schools photo)

Three to represent district in D.C.

4-19

Three senior girls will represent the Edmonds School District and Washington State May 1-12 in Washington D.C. at the Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) national career development conference. Jodi Noto of Lynnwood High School and Terri Lingenbrink and Judy Thompson of Woodway High School earned the trip to the nationals by finishing well in state DECA competition March 6 at Seattle Center. Jodi took second and Terri third in the student of the year competition, while Judy got first in selling and third overall in fashion apparel and accessories. Others from South County who did well in the state contest were Travis Richards, Edmonds 2nd general merchandise display; Lorraine Kobbs, Meadowdale 3rd newspaper advertising; Jana Parker, Meadowdale 3rd job interview; Joanne Orazio, Meadowdale 3rd apparel and accessory manual; and 5th student of the year. Jody Moran, Lynnwood 4th chapter of the year award; Dave Walker, Lynnwood 3rd food marketing; Miss Noto 6th apparel and accessory manual; Rhonda Jacobson, Woodway 6th jewelry merchandise manual.

TOP FINISHERS from the Edmonds School District in the March 11 FBLA regional contest are, left to right, (seated) Tami Fisher, Lynnwood; Vicki Onstad, Lynnwood; Connie Scott, Lynnwood; Rene Mabeus, Lynnwood; (standing)

Donna Robinson, Meadowdale; Brooke Robinson, Meadowdale; Linda Nordquist, Woodway; Cindy Doyle, Woodway; Robin Wiley, Woodway; and Carolyn Campagna, Woodway. (Edmonds Schools photo)

District students top FBLA winners

5-3

Ten Edmonds School District high school girls won top awards in Future Business Leaders of America - FBLA regional competition at Marner High School March 11. Some 400 students participated. Carolyn Campagna of Woodway High School earned first place in advanced typing, while Lynnwood High School's Connie Scott received first in advanced shorthand. Other winners were Brooke Robinson, Meadowdale, 2nd, advanced typing; Vicki Onstad, Lynnwood, 2nd, beginning shorthand; Rene Mabeus, Lynnwood, 2nd, advanced shorthand; Donna Robinson, Meadowdale, 4th, beginning typing; Cindy Doyle, Woodway, 4th, electronic calculator; and Tami Fisher, Lynnwood, 4th, beginning shorthand. Woodway's spelling team of Miss Campagna, Linda Nordquist and Robin Wiley finished third. FBLA competition continues for these young ladies in the state conference April 13-15 in Ellensburg.